-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 17 February 2006.
- 2a) ☒ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☐ This action is non-final.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 2 and 10-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Zentko in view of Jarvis et al.

There is disclosed in Zentko a barbecue grill including a heat source (charcoal, col. 2, lines 33, 34; a thermoelectric generator (col. 2, lines 30-33) for producing electric power by way of the heat produced from the heat source; a barbecue grill accessory (rotary spit) 21 which uses the electric power of the generator; a cooking surface 18 heated by charcoal placed beneath it.

Jarvis discloses that it is known in the art to have a thermoelectric generator consist of a heat insulated module 38.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to provide the thermoelectric generator of Zentko with the heat insulation disclosed in Jarvis, in order to prevent damage to the generator.

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Harbin in view of Jarvis et al.

There is disclosed in Harbin a barbecue grill including a heat source 30; and a thermoelectric generator for providing electric power to a grill accessory such as a rotary spit or lighting arrangement (col. 3, lines 40-43).

Jarvis, as discussed above, discloses an insulated module 38 as a thermoelectric generator.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to substitute the thermoelectric generator of Harbin with the insulated module disclosed in Jarvis, in order to provide an alternative thermoelectric generator for providing power to elements of the device.

Claims 4-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Harbin in view of Jarvis et al. as applied to claims 1-3 above, and further in view of Hegedus.

Hegedus discloses the use of a light source in close proximity to a barbecue grill, the light source being a bulb positioned on an elongated arm which has a mounting clip for placing the light in various locations.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to provide the device of Harbin, as modified by Jarvis, with the light source taught in Hegedus, in order to provide light to the barbecue grilling area.

In regards to the use of a plurality of LED's as the light source, such is an obvious matter of design choice since applicant has failed to provide any distinct advantage for using fluorescent bulbs or LED's.

In regards to claim 9, the mounting clip disclosed in Hegedus will allow for mounting of the light source on a sidewall of the barbecue grill.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 16-31 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
